

This picture represents the top view of the Park Library and the Bovee University Center (U.C.) on East Preston. There is a ramp that connects the library to the U.C. and can be used to access the only accessible door at the U.C.

We want to build braille-guided sidewalks and pavements to let people with impaired vision know where they are and where they should be going. This project helps make CMU more accessible to people with disabilities.

This is what Library is spelled like in Braille. We want to incorporate Braille guided sidewalks and pavements to make CMU more accessible. Furthermore, these pathways will lead people with disabilities towards accessible entrances as well! Lastly, CMU replaces its sideblocks almost every year so for the next year's cycle we could see how we could incorporate this idea to make CMU more accessible!
